and incident reports are sent to the advocates on a daily basis to allow advocates to contact victims via phone the day following their victimization.

Judicial advocacy assists individuals by helping victims navigate through the municipal court system. Advocates support and educate victims with court proceedings in addition to information on victim's rights. Victims often require assistance with completing protection order paperwork, anti-stalking order paperwork, and crime victim compensation paperwork which all of our advocates are trained to do.

Finally, trauma therapy is provided to victims who request cognitive behavioral therapy. Therapy allows victims to create safety plans, develop self-initiated goals and to secure support systems.
