Part X - Line 2 - FIN 48 Footnote

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the Agency to report information regarding its exposure to various tax positions taken by the Agency. The Agency has determined whether any tax positions have met the recognition threshold and have measured the Agency's exposure to those tax positions. Management believes that the Agency has adequately addressed all relevant tax positions and that there are no unrecorded tax liabilities. Federal and state tax authorities generally have the right to examine and audit the previous three years of tax returns filed. If incurred, the Agency records tax related penalties and interest as management and general costs in the accompanying statements of activities and changes in net assets and functional expenses. However, the Agency incurred no tax related penalties or interest in 2025 or 2024.

Form 990 - Organization's Mission or Most Significant Activities

Since 1972, Victim Assistance empowers our community to restore lives impacted by crisis, violence, and tragedy. Our purpose is to provide crisis intervention, advocacy and education to victims of crime and trauma and to the professional community who serves this population. Our vision is a world where all victims are healed.

Form 990 - Organization's Mission

Since 1972, Victim Assistance empowers our community to restore lives impacted by crisis, violence, and tragedy. Our purpose is to provide crisis intervention, advocacy and education to victims of crime and trauma and to the professional community who serves this population. Our vision is a world where all victims are healed.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - First Accomplishment

Free non-clinical crisis intervention is provided in person, via SMS text, online chat, and via phone (hotline) 24 hours a day, 365 days a year to Summit County residents and employees who voluntarily seek assistance. Advocates address safety and security, allow the client to vent and be validated about their reactions and responses to trauma, and predict and prepare the client to address basic human needs to overcome the aftermath of the traumatization. Clients are empowered to develop an individualized safety plan and plan of action to regain the control that was lost as a result of their trauma. Finally, crisis intervention incorporates information, education, and referrals to ensure clients are provided holistic wrap around services for the entire family. Although most crisis intervention is provided on the hotline, the most unique accessibility point and only one of its kind in Summit County, is immediately following the traumatic experience. Clients receive crisis intervention at the scene of the crime/traumatic incident or in the hospital upon request from law enforcement, fire/EMS, the medical examiner's office, or hospital personnel. Otherwise, victims may walk into any of the 6 office locations throughout the county to receive services without an appointment.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b - Second Accomplishment

After addressing a victim's acute crisis through crisis intervention, advocates contact clients within 24 to 48 hours to check in, reassess safety, and offer advocacy services. Victim advocacy empowers clients to establish a plan of action (also known as a case management) to address the impact trauma has, or may have, on their life or their families' lives. Advocacy services are provided in the home, in a VAP office, or any other location where the victim feels safe and comfortable enough to do so. If criminal charges are filed, advocates walk alongside victims through all phases of the criminal justice process, from the initial arraignment hearing to case disposition. In addition to criminal cases, when clients seek civil action through protection orders to increase their safety, they are referred by law enforcement and the clerk of courts to meet with a Victim Advocate. Both personal and legal advocacy incorporates non legal education and information to allow each client to make informed decisions
